ABC's EXPECTATIONS OF THE BITCOIN PRICE

M2 Global Supply Growth YoY and YoY Growth Rate

The chart below compares Bitcoin's price with global M2 money supply growth across the top 21 central banks. M2 includes cash, deposits, and money market balances, which are key gauges of global liquidity.

Source: Bitcoincounterflow.com

- When central banks expand liquidity (through rate cuts or asset purchases), M2 rises, and Bitcoin historically follows, reflecting its sensitivity to global monetary expansion.
- Bull markets in Bitcoin have repeatedly coincided with rapid M2 growth, reinforcing its role as a hedge against long-term fiat debasement.

Insight

Volatile price action tied to liquidity and ETF flows.

Re-pricing upward as adoption, liquidity, and institutional legitimacy strengthen

Bitcoin evolves into a global reserve-grade asset anchored by scarcity, institutional adoption, and enduring monetary demand.

Supply Dynamics

- 2024 Halving cut new issuance to ~450 BTC/day, tightening near-term supply.
- Miner costs, ETF absorption, and market liquidity drive short-term volatility.

- Next halving in 2028 compresses new supply further (<0.5 % of total).
- Illiquid coins rise as ETFs and long-term holders lock up Bitcoin.

- With issuance negligible, scarcity defines value.
- Institutional and sovereign accumulation positions Bitcoin as a “digital gold” equivalent.

Demand Dynamics

- ETF inflows dominate institutional demand.
- Retail momentum remains volatile but persistent, especially in emerging markets hedging currency depreciation.

- Corporates and pension funds diversify into Bitcoin as part of treasury and portfolio allocations.
- Structured financial products broaden access.

- Bitcoin matures into a reserve asset for corporates and sovereigns.
- Integration with global payment rails and stablecoin systems reinforces monetary relevance.

Macro Economic Backdrop

- Liquidity cycles (QE/QT) drive volatility.
- Bitcoin tracks risk-on flows as liquidity seeks alternative stores of value amid Fed policy shifts.

- Fiscal and monetary expansion re-rate Bitcoin upward as global debt loads rise.
- Narrative shifts toward “digital gold” as structural hedge.

- Persistent global inflation and currency debasement embed Bitcoin as a macro-hedge within global portfolios, independent of any single economy.

HOW BITCOIN HOLDINGS ARE RESHAPING CORPORATE VALUATIONS

1 Market Premium on Bitcoin Balance Sheets:

Firms like Blockchain Group, Nakamoto, and H100 have seen exponential re-ratings as markets reward strategic Bitcoin accumulation.

2 Liquidity, Volatility, and Valuation Advantage:

Bitcoin-holding companies trade with higher multiples due to their BTC-linked optionality and treasury strength.

3 Digital Gold Narrative Drives Investor Interest:

Bitcoin on the balance sheet signals inflation resilience and forward-looking capital strategy.

4 BTC Treasury = Global Attention Magnet:

Nasdaq and institutional investors increasingly track firms with direct BTC exposure — leading to increased trading volumes and visibility.

5 Proof of Concept

Blockchain Group's 2025 breakout mirrors MicroStrategy's early BTC strategy — showing that Bitcoin treasury strategies can transform corporate valuations.

WHY AFRICA?

Massive Population: 1.5 billion people across 54 countries - 17% of the global population

Young Demographics: Median age: 19.2 - the world's youngest continent

Untapped Capital: $100–300 billion in idle corporate cash - ready for smarter allocation

Financial Exclusion: Over 50% unbanked - no access to traditional financial services

Costly Remittances: $90B year sent home with avg. fees of 8.4% - Bitcoin slashes this to near-zero

Governance: Across Africa, political volatility, currency instability, and regulatory uncertainty continue to undermine trust in local systems. Bitcoin solves these challenges with a hard-capped, borderless, mobile-first monetary network, enabling Africans to preserve value and transact with confidence.

Currency Destruction: Inflation ~13.2% (vs. ~3% globally); naira, cedi, and others down 50%+ in recent years

TOTAL ADRESSABLE MARKET IN AFRICA

INSTITUTIONS

Pension Fund Assets: ~$455 bn

Debt Markets: ~$500 bn

Equity Markets: ~$1.6 tn (JSE >$1 tn)

Retail Investment Market: ~$1 tn AUM

Corporate Cash Balances: $100–300 bn

Bitcoin Holdings: 43.5 m Africans (~6% pop) own crypto

INDIVIDUALS

Billionaires: 25 (>$100 bn combined wealth)

Millionaires: 122,500 HNWI's ($1m+ assets)

Retail Investors: <10 m (Nigeria ~3 m; Kenya ~1.5 m)

Economically Active Population: ~550 m

Workforce (Employed): ~500 m

WHY BITCOIN IN AFRICA?

AFRICA'S MACRO OPPORTUNITY

Massive & Young Market: 54 countries with ~1.52 billion¹ people (17% of world) and a median age of only ~19.2 years² – the world's youngest continent poised for digital growth.

Rising Economic Clout: Combined GDP ~$2.8 trillion³, with fast growth potential as incomes and urbanization climb.

Mobile-First Leapfrog: Rapid mobile adoption unlocks access. There are ~615 million mobile⁴ subscribers (~46% of population) as of 2023 and climbing. Ubiquitous phones mean millions can leapfrog directly into digital finance.

Momentum for Innovation: A tech-savvy youth and widespread connectivity create fertile ground for fintech adoption. Africa is prime for Bitcoin-enabled solutions, offering U.S. investors a vast, untapped market with high upside.

Large Corporate Balance Sheets: African corporations hold an estimated $100–$300 billion in uninvested cash, with South African firms accounting for about $50 billion. This liquidity offers significant potential for innovative capital allocation, including Bitcoin treasury strategies.

FINANCIAL SYSTEM CHALLENGES

Inflation Erodes Wealth: African economies face high inflation (~13.2% avg in 2025⁵) – far above U.S./EU levels – which acts like a tax on cash savings.

Currency Volatility: Many local currencies are in crisis. Example: Ghana's cedi fell ~50%⁶ in 2022; Nigeria's naira plunged ~60–70%⁷ in after devaluation. Such collapses destroy purchasing power and confidence.

Limited Stores of Value: With unstable currencies and scarce access to assets like USD or gold, families struggle to preserve wealth. Safe savings options are often out of reach, especially amid capital controls.

Financial Exclusion: Over 50%⁸ of Africans are unbanked (no formal account), limiting access to credit and payments. Banking infrastructure gaps leave hundreds of millions without reliable financial services.

Pain Point = Opportunity: These systemic challenges create urgent demand for alternatives. A solution that can hedge inflation, store value, and enable payments for the unbanked is poised to win huge adoption.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO INVESTORS

Africa Bitcoin Corporation Limited (the Company) holds a proportion of its treasury reserves and surplus cash in Bitcoin. Bitcoin is a type of cryptocurrency or crypto asset. Whilst the Board of Directors of the Company considers holding Bitcoin to be in the best interests of the Company, the Board remains aware that the FCA considers investment in Bitcoin to be high risk. At the outset, it is important to note that an investment in the Company is not an investment in Bitcoin, either directly or by proxy. However, the Board of Directors of the Company consider Bitcoin to be an appropriate store of value and growth for the Company's reserves and, accordingly, the Company is materially exposed to Bitcoin.

The Company is neither authorised nor regulated by the FCA. And cryptocurrencies (such as Bitcoin) are unregulated in the UK. The value of Bitcoin can go down as well as up, and therefore the value of the Company's Bitcoin holdings can fluctuate. The Company may not be able to realise its Bitcoin exposure for the same as it paid in the first place or even for the value the Company ascribes to its Bitcoin positions due to these market movements.

Nevertheless, the Board of Directors of the Company has taken the decision to invest in Bitcoin, and in doing so is mindful of the special risks Bitcoin presents to the Company's financial position. These risks include (but are not limited to): (i) the value of Bitcoin can be highly volatile, with value dropping as quickly as it can rise. Investors in Bitcoin must be prepared to lose all money invested in Bitcoin; (ii) the Bitcoin market is largely unregulated. There is a risk of losing money due to risks such as cyber-attacks, financial crime and counterparty failure; (iii) the Company may not be able to sell its Bitcoin at will. The ability to sell Bitcoin depends on various factors, including the supply and demand in the market at the relevant time. Operational failings such as technology outages, cyber-attacks and comingling of funds could cause unwanted delay; and (iv) cryptoassets are characterised in some quarters by high degrees of fraud, money laundering and financial crime. In addition, there is a perception in some quarters that cyber-attacks are prominent which can lead to theft of holdings or ransom demands. The Board of Directors of the Company does not subscribe to such a negative view, especially in relation to Bitcoin. However, prospective investors in the Company are encouraged to do your own research before investing.
